

Supply Chain Director

Driving growth – continuous improvement – entrepreneurial mindset

Breda

van de Groep & Olsthoorn

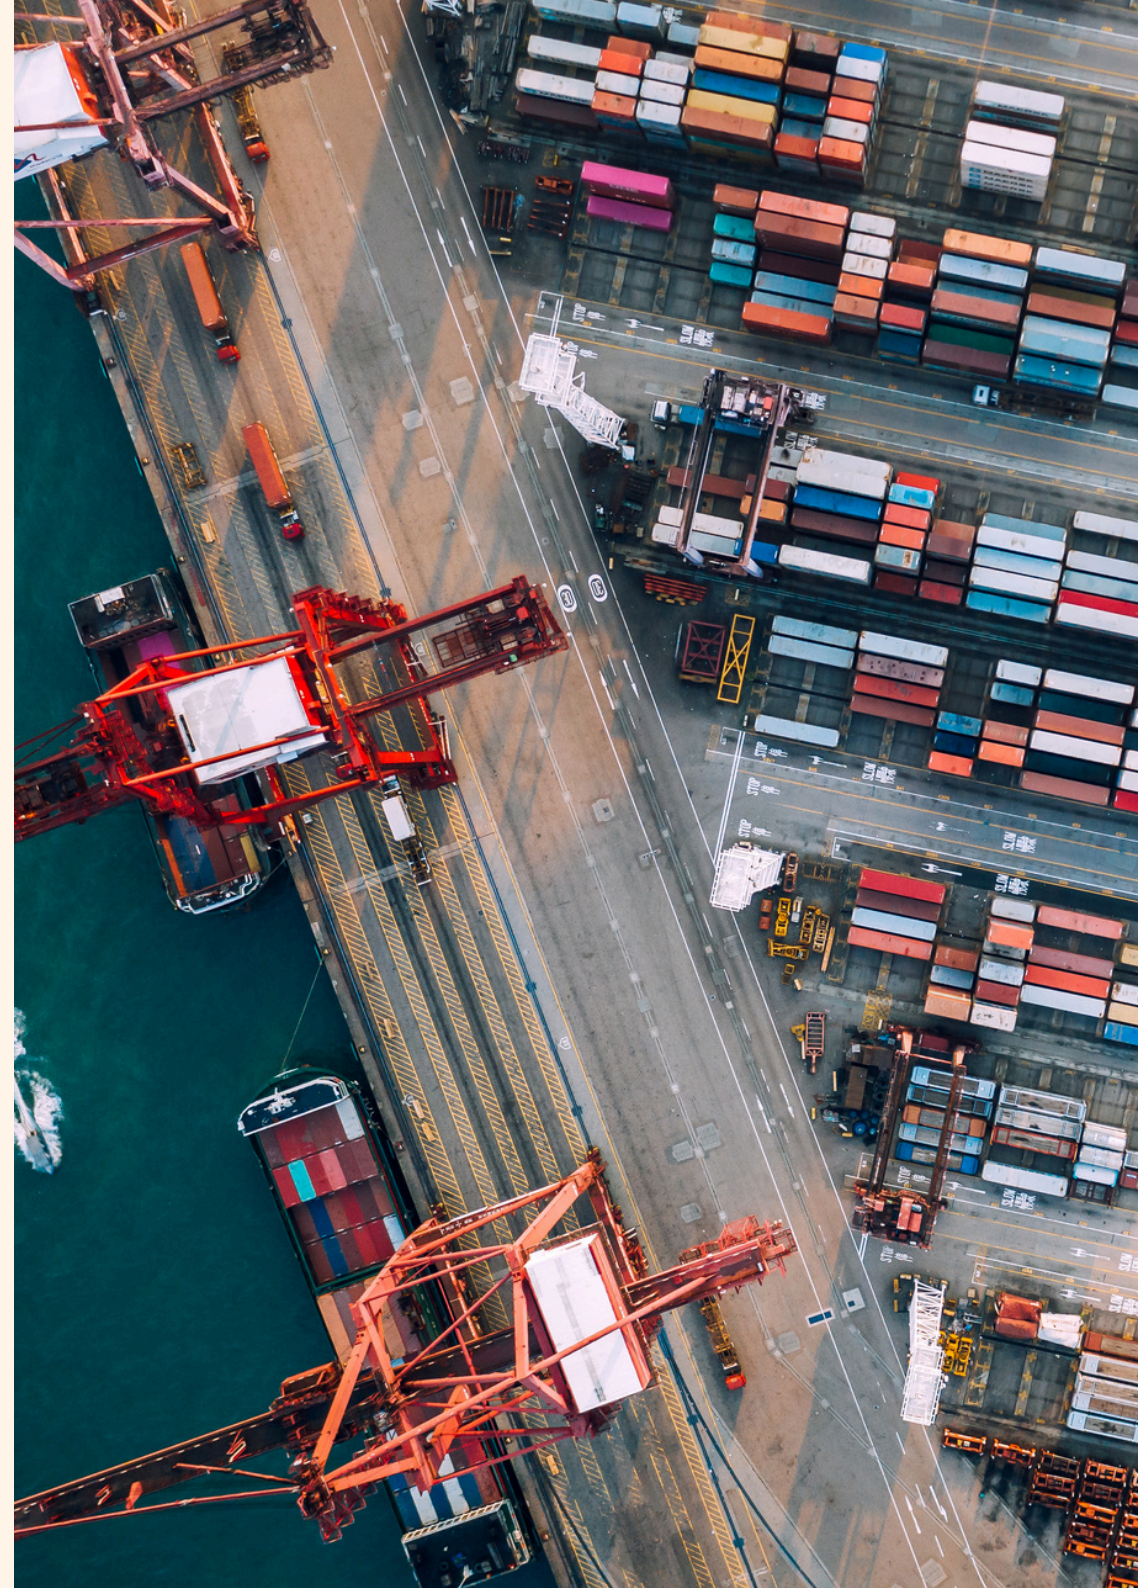

Wego Chemical Group

Wego Group a family-owned and operated company, is a global supplier, importer, and distributor of chemicals and ingredients. Wego offers a variety of chemicals and ingredients with diverse applications and uses, servicing a wide range of industries.

The company continuously diversifies its product portfolio to meet the needs of the ever-evolving industries it serves. Since its origin in 1978 the philosophy has been founded on the sourcing and development of competitive chemical and ingredient supply originating from the Pacific Rim, with a strong emphasis on China, Taiwan, Korea, Japan, India, and Indonesia.

The distribution strengths include:

- Forging strong relationships with suppliers and manufacturers across the globe to reliably source high-quality, competitively-priced raw materials
- Providing safety, regulatory, and customs clearance for customers around the world
- Tailoring transport and delivery of shipments to satisfy customers' particular requirements

Supply Chain Director

The supply chain team is the cornerstone of Wego's fulfillment process and responsible for delivering the quality of service that is vital to our value proposition. The Supply Chain Director is responsible for growing, leading, optimizing, and integrating the company's entire supply chain organization (Customer Service, Logistics, and Quality & Regulatory). He or she ensures that customers across Europe receive their products on time, in full, and in compliance with all relevant regulations. The Supply Chain Director is a strategic partner to the VP & General Manager EMEA and Sales Directors, balancing commercial promises with operational capabilities.

He or she reports directly to the VP & General Manager EMEA with a dotted line to the global supply chain VP. Direct reports are the Customer Service Supervisor, the Logistics Supervisor, and the Quality & Regulatory Officer. The Supply Chain Director works closely with the Sales Directors and their European sales teams, EMEA finance, and US supply chain counterparts.

Key responsibilities are leading, coaching, and developing the supervisors and Q&R officer, fostering collaboration, efficiency, and customer focus. Ensuring professional, automated and AI driven order receipt, entry, and confirmation. Ensuring timely, safe, and compliant deliveries throughout Europe. Overseeing compliance with European and national legislation (REACH, CLP, Seveso, etc.). Continuously review efficiency and effectiveness of existing processes, Oracle system usage and people, and initiate and lead improvement projects where needed (digitalization, order-to-cash optimization, cost efficiency).

The Supply Chain Director is accountable for the operational performance of the supply chain organization. He or she is accountable to develop and manage SC budget and proactively develop cost efficiency initiatives. Manages and optimizes the 3PL network in consultation with the VP and Sales directors. Escalates structural issues directly to the VP.

Your profile

You have a completed Bachelor's or Master's degree in Supply Chain Management, Logistics, and/or Business Administration. You have 8–10 years of relevant experience in supply chain/logistics in a similar international, highly regulated, product trading environment. Previous experience with in chemical distribution is a big plus. You know what it takes to build excellence and have a strong knowledge of European supply chain processes, ADR/REACH/CLP, and international logistics.

We are searching for an energetic, hands-on, resilient, and self-starting leader with excellent people management skills. You have commercial awareness and experience collaborating with sales-driven organizations. You are analytical, results-oriented, decisive, and strong in stakeholder communication. The Supply Chain Director should be a team player, who inspires, motivates, and successfully develops multi-disciplinary teams. Next to customer focus, continuous improvement is your second nature. You must live in the Netherlands or be willing to relocate and must be fluent in English. A good command of Dutch, German, and French is beneficial.

Our client offers

Wego has been operating for over 40 years as a renowned and reliable international supplier, importer, and distributor of key raw materials. It has steadily grown from a one-room, two-person office in 1978 to a diverse team of over 220 professionals with a global footprint. The family-owned company has developed longstanding client, supplier, and employee relationships and offers attractive employment conditions.

More information about this position? Get in touch with Quirine Lisman or Bert-Jan de Visser.

info@vandegroep.nl
T: 0346 870020

Van de Groep & Olsthoorn

